The U. S. and War Debts

The British Government, anxious to get some action looking to world economic restoration, underlying, has again raised the subject of war debts. At the Lord Mayor's banquet on Wednesday evening, Mr. Baldwin pointedly suggested that ratification of the Lausanne settlements on reparations should be made possible. The inference is that the change in United States administration is a hopeful augury of a broader national viewpoint on the debt situation.

Remission of Germany's obligations depends on similar leniency to be shown to the chief creditor nation, the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt has hastened to deny the London rumor that he will cross the Atlantic before his inauguration to discuss the question of debt revision. He has also contradicted the statement in the London newspapers that he is inclined to make more favorable war debt terms with Great Britain.

It is difficult to understand the British view that the Democratic victory predestined a change in American policy on war debts. Mr. Roosevelt was silent on the subject during his campaign but several of his leading lieutenants made it clear that they are all for the full pound of flesh from the former European Allies.

Among the number is Mr. W. G. McAdoo, a member of the Wilson cabinet and a prospective member of the Roosevelt administration. His senatorial victory in California and his outstanding contribution to the Roosevelt nomination in Chicago give him a claim on cabinet preferment.

Mr. McAdoo turned around not long ago and in his autobiography, "Crowded Years", he has something interesting to say on the matter of war debts. He insists on the debt being paid and this is how he suggests payments might be made.

1 Great Britain and France should hand over their West India colonies, together with Belgium and French Guinea.

2 This would pay only part of the debt to the United States, which would, however, allow on account much more than those colonies are really worth.

3 The debtor nations should hand to the United States blocks of land in some of their large cities (London and Paris) for instance.

These extraordinary proposals from a leading Democratic statesman do not hold out any hope that the United States is becoming more reasonable on the debt question.

BACK FROM THE GOLD FIELDS
Ed Hazelwood, who has been mining on the Atlatlaba river for the past couple of years, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Avery this week, enroute to his home at Admiral, Sask. Mr. Hazelwood reports mining prospects good on his location, and brought out several samples of gold dust and amalgam, gathered on his property.

The "pay dirt" on the claim rated very high in gold, silver, and a small amount of platinum. The mining is being done by means of hydraulic pump and sluice box, the first gold being gathered by quicksilver. He will return to his claim in a couple of weeks, and uncover a lot of ground in readiness for next spring's operations.

Benefit Dance.

To raise funds to help needy families in Lacombe and District, the Proprietor and Staff of the Adelphi Hotel are holding a benefit dance in the Adelphi Ball Room on December 23rd.

Mr. Inkish has graciously given the Ball Room for the occasion, and the Staff of the Hotel are paying all other expenses in connection with the dance, so that every cent, taken in will be used for the benefit of the needy families. Never before in history was relief so badly needed, and although some families can get the bare necessities of life, a few extra commodities at Christmas time would make their outlook on life a little more cheerful. The tickets for this dance are now on sale, and the price is reasonable, 50c. each. To many, 50c. is not a very large sum of money, but at the present time 50c. can buy quite a bit of food, and help to relieve the cause and everyone should help it along. Music for the dance is being donated by the various musicians of Lacombe, and a good time is assured.

The Democrats Now in Power

For the fifth time in a period of 72 years the Democratic party has elected its candidate to the presidency of the United States. Two of its previous victories were by very narrow margins: In 1884, when Cleveland won the pivotal state of New York by a mere handful of votes, and in 1916 when he defeated Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson's victory in 1912 was a result of a civil war which broke out in the Republican party when the ambitions of Roosevelt and Taft clashed. In the whole period the Democrats, until last week only scored one decisive victory: in 1892, when Cleveland was elected for a second term over President Harrison by so wide a margin that predictions were made that the Republican party would never recover from its overthrow.

But the emergence of the silver issue split the Democratic party and the Republicans, reinforced by the gold Democrats, returned to power in 1896 and have since held the presidential office except for the Wilson interregnum of eight years.

The Republican party, until it fell upon the evil times of the past three years, has been fortunate. It regarded itself as the agency by which prosperity could be given to the country and circumstances time and again seemed to give support to the claim.

Thus the post-war depression disappeared about the time the Fordney-McCumber tariff, which replaced the low tariff of the Democratic regime, came into operation; and the following era of prosperity, culminating in the boom of 1928 and 1929, was accepted by the people as proof of the wonder-working qualities of Republican policies.

The tremendous Republican sweeps of 1924 and 1928 were consequences of this widely-held belief.

Morningside News
The chicken supper given by the W.M.S. of Morningside was a decided success, both from the standpoint of attendance and programme. The music was furnished by the Ponoka Church Choir, under the leadership of Mr. Bowker, while Mr. Williams presided at the piano for the four anthems given by the choir, and also for the quartettes. Solo numbers were given by Mrs. Northcott, (vocal), Miss Glendinning, a vocal and instrumental, Mr. Krefting (vocal), and Mr. Hales, vocal. All of which brought forth encores from the audience who were attentive, appreciative and enthusiastic.

Of course no programme given by the Ponoka people in Morningside is complete without a reading by Mr. Bowker who read "Baptist Tru-don, alias Mr. Waterhole" which he said was Dr. Drummond's masterpiece of habilitant portraiture. Rev. Davies, accompanied his choir to see that they conducted themselves properly and spoke a few words of exhortation. A fine choir and Mr. Davies will always receive a hearty welcome from Morningside.

Several from the Morningside district attended the Remembrance Day dinner which was put on by the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. local of the Seafield district. All report a most enjoyable day.

BOY'S VOCATIONAL CONFERENCE

About the middle of January, 1933, the Second Annual Boy's Vocational Conference under the auspices of the Church in the Red Deer Diocese, will be held in Lacombe, and it should compel the interest of all members of the Church in this town and district. There is probability of a similar Conference for the 'teen age girls' of the Church being held in conjunction with the Boy's Conference. This, of course, will give a great deal of added interest to all. These conferences are invariably held on a Saturday and Sunday in this Diocese, and arrangements are now being made to hold a public banquet on the evening of the Friday which will immediately precede the Conference at which the Bishop will be the chief speaker. The Bishop's brilliant oratorical powers should make a strong appeal to all. More concerning both Conference and Banquet in due course.

Apart from this every day clutter a new system of inflation of currency, a curtailed access, off or on the gold standard, the jangle of Grit, Tory, or Rhode Island Reds, the fact remains that winter is here. The storm broke Saturday with a heavy fall of snow; Sunday was cold and stormy; Monday morning the thermometer registered 14 below. No matter what the "Indians or Muskies" say, better get your socks darned for it looks to us as if we are in for a real old fashioned winter.

Eight Months' Gold Output

Production Showing An Increase Month By Month

The importance of Canada as a gold-producing country continues to increase. The output for the first eight months of 1932 is substantially higher than for the corresponding period in 1931. Production of gold in the Dominion from January 1 to August 31, 1932, amounted to 2,011,304 fine ounces valued at $41,577,342, compared with 1,724,089 ounces worth $35,640,082, produced in the first eight months of last year. Each successive month this year has shown an increase in the yield of gold over the previous month. Most of the gold produced in Canada comes from Northern Ontario, the Kirkland Lake and Porcupine areas being the principal sources of production. Quebec, Manitoba, British Columbia and the Yukon Territory each contribute a limited supply of the precious metal.

Press Button In High-Speed Restaurant and Food Appears

"No waiting" is the slogan of a restaurant just opened in Prague. Diners don't wait for the waiters, for there aren't any waiters to keep them waiting. As he walks through the hall of the restaurant, the customer chooses his meal from gigantic menu boards hanging on the walls. Arrived at the office, he gives his order and receives a ticket with a number upon it. He then goes to the seat bearing that number.

Down the middle of the table runs a broad travelling band, and barely has he taken his place when his first dish comes bobbing along. He removes it from the band, disposes of it, and then places the empty plates and dishes upon another band beneath the table, which moves in the opposite direction. Meantime he presses a button and in a matter of seconds the next course appears. The dirty plates and dishes are carried by their band to the washing-up department, whence yet another band takes them back to the kitchen. The price of a three-course meal is about twenty-five cents, and so well is the restaurant paying that its owner is talking of supplying another course for the same money.

Deserves The Honor

Earl Byng Earned Award Of Field Marshal's Baton

General Byng had a remarkably good record as a commander in the great war and richly deserves the field marshal's baton that has been awarded to him. The Canadian expeditionary force served under General Byng, who, after the war, became governor-general of this Dominion.

When a British soldier is given "the baton," he reaches the highest rank in the army, that of field marshal. The baton is a short staff presented by the King as a symbol of office. No one is made a field marshal unless he is of royal blood or has rendered distinguished service.

The Loneliest Island

Commander "Carinthia" To Visit Tristan De Cunha Next Year

Weather permitting, Tristan De Cunha, loneliest island in the inhabited world, will be visited by the Cunard World Cruise Liner "Carinthia" while on her journey around the world, via the southern hemisphere, early next year.

A large quantity of food supplies will be sent ashore for the lonely islanders, and the captain of the "Carinthia" will offer a banquet to the islanders in the dining saloon of the ship.

It will be imagined with what pleasure the hundred and sixty inhabitants will look forward to seeing the "Carinthia," when it is realized that more than a year sometimes elapses without a ship calling here. When a ship called two years ago at the island, the sailors were still half starved and the islanders were still half dead.

The island is the largest and the only inhabited one of a group of three, situated in the middle of the south Atlantic, and was named after a Portuguese admiral who discovered them in 1506. The main island, Tristan, is 2,300 miles south. Until the middle of the last century the neighborhood waters were visited by American whalers, but with the decline of the whaling industry these visits ceased.

A car coming from the right at a street intersection will always seem to be going faster than it actually is.

This is an optical illusion produced by the action of your eyes and the other factors coming into play at the point of a "traffic wedge" at the same time.

As the cars near the point of this wedge they seem to increase in speed, when as a matter of fact they may be slowing down.

When meeting a car under such circumstances it is best to be guided by illusion and slow down accordingly, but if caught in a situation where you are too late to avoid a collision by stopping it is well to know that the other car is not travelling as fast as it seems and that you can reach the crossing safely by speeding up a little.

YOUR LIVER'S MAKING YOU FEEL OUT OF SORTS

Wake up your Liver Bile

No Calomel needed

When you feel blue, depressed, sour on the face, find it necessary to vomit, or find it difficult to digest, it is a sign that your liver is not working properly.

Diagnosis and elimination are being shown clearly in the picture. The liver is the organ that makes you feel well. It is the organ that makes you feel ill. It is the organ that makes you feel better. FAT MAN LOSES 63 lbs.

Kruschen and Walking

Overweight men who want to lose a few pounds can have the benefit of this man's experience. He gives them a tip on publication.

"In a little over twelve months I have reduced my weight from 327 lbs. to 164 lbs., by taking a dose of Kruschen Salts every morning for six months, and taking walking exercise every day. This remarkable achievement is all the more interesting when one considers that I did not resort to any form of dieting."

You can take off fat with Kruschen Salts if you will take one-half teaspoon in hot water every morning before breakfast, modify your diet, and exercise regularly.

While you are losing fat, you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. The old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like top. You'll lose fat, and probably five years longer.

Canadian Wheat Exports

Volume Is Much Greater This Year Than Previous Season

For the first 11 weeks of the current crop year, exports of Canadian wheat totalled 53,650,900 bushels compared with 29,452,299 bushels for the same period of last year, according to a report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. For the week ended October 14, the total was 8,945,760. This was a decline from the previous week of nearly 1,000,000 bushels.

Work Among the Lepers

Japanese Doctor Claims Disease Is Not Contagious

Seventeen years among the lepers of Taiwan, Formosa, Japan, have left Dr. Makimoto Iwaga in perfect health and confident he will never contract the dreaded disease.

Stopping at Montreal on his way to Berlin, where he will deliver a paper on his experiments with ultraviolet rays and leprosy bacilli before a convention of scientists, the eminent Japanese physician told interviewers he was "neither contagious nor fearfully" in believing it unlikely he should become a victim of leprosy.

"And that simply because leprosy is not contagious—a fact not generally known by laymen but widely recognized among specialists in the matter," said Dr. Iwaga.

After years of laboratory experiments, Dr. Iwaga said he had recently killed leprosy bacilli by the special use of ultra-violet rays. "But that is only a beginning," he added. "We have yet to negative the bacilli in the human organism... and that is a difficult step."

Flying As Career

Is Becoming Popular

Demand For Instructional Courses Is Showing Marked Increase

Flying is becoming increasingly regarded as offering a definite career, and, as a result, the demand for instructional courses which are sufficiently complete to enable the pupil to go into commercial aviation afterwards has been greatly augmented.

Air Service Training Ltd., the flying school at Hangle near London, England, which pioneered the introduction of "blind" flying for civil aviation, has specialized in the teaching of pilots who are intending to take up flying professionally.

A course for commercial pilots is mapped out which takes them through every branch of the work and enables them to go straight from the school to an aircraft operating firm or air line organization. The popularity of this course has increased to run it by the ton, and, therefore, pupils for the commercial pilot's course will only be accepted in September and February of each year.

A Young Cattle Exhibitor

B.C. Girl Started Live Stock Career At Age Of Six

Carrying on the good work of the Turner family, Kathleen, aged 11, exhibited a Hereford calf in the Boys and Girls' Club class at the Vancouver Exhibition. Daughter of Jim Turner, Cadboro Bay, whose successes as a breeder and exhibitor of sheep, beef cattle and horses are well known, the west, Kathleen started her live stock career at the age of six. One cold, wet fall fair at Vancouver, Kathleen struggled with a refractory calf. Since then she has been a more or less regular exhibitor.

She follows a family line of youthful exhibitors. Annie Turner, her eldest sister, carried off premier honors at Kamloops and elsewhere many times in intervals in her school days. Then came Murray, followed by Rosemary and Olive. Now Kathleen, and three more to come in turn into the limelight of the show ring as young exhibitors of live stock.

Engineer Predicts Operation By Small Dial On Wheel

R. S. Burnett, of New York, manager of the Standards Department of the Society of Automotive Engineers, at a recent session in Toronto, told the gathering that perhaps the next five years would bring about the operation of an automobile by one small dial on the steering wheel. Braking, acceleration, chocking and gear changing would all be controlled by the dial, he predicted.

An Important Business

The making of laths, trees, and shoe findings in Canada has grown into quite an important business. The factory value of the output in 1931 was $1,190,403. The business also turns out some interesting sidelines, not included in the above. These are alloy bowls, ten pins, duck pins, golf club heads, tongue depressors, wooden candy spoons and sticks, etc. The factory value of these last year was $21,160. There are seven factories in Quebec, two in Nova Scotia and two in Ontario.

Russia Imports Wheat

Becomes An Importer As Well As An Exporter

For the first time in a number of years, Soviet Russia has become an importer as well as an exporter of wheat. The greater part of her imports were from Canada.

Official figures revealed that during the first eight months of 1932, the nation—known as the granary of Europe—imported more wheat than it sold abroad. This was not, however, the case with other grains and cereals.

An official of the commissariat for foreign trade, explained in order to supply the increased needs of the Far East it had been found more expeditious and less of a strain on badly overcrowded transport to buy wheat abroad for ocean delivery at Vladivostok rather than ship it there by rail from Europe.

Communist spokesmen denied there was any actual wheat shortage. They pointed out that Russia was still exporting wheat.

Exports of wheat from Canada to Soviet Russia were from the grain fields of Alberta and were shipped from Vancouver to Vladivostok during the summer months.

Of the total imports of Soviet Russia, Canada supplied approximately 1,597,248 bushels, shipped in eight cargoes from the Pacific coast ports.

Branded Beef Is Popular

Now Being More Fully Appreciated By Consumers, As Shown By Sales Increase

The annual report of the Minister of Agriculture for Canada for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1932, contains the following reference with respect to officially branded beef:

"That the advantage of being able to purchase beef which carries some definite indication of quality is being more fully appreciated by consumers is apparent from the steady increase in sales of graded beef. Sales of this product for the last calendar year totalled over 17,000,000 pounds, and weekly reports which are received from all establishments which are branding beef under the regulations indicate a very gratifying increase in sales for the first few months of the present year."

Pie Crust Easily Made

No Skill Required For Success With New Method

The making of a good pie crust used to be one of the criteria by which a woman's skill was judged. Most experienced cooks will remember the anxiety with which they learned to make a good crust, and the difficulty in adding just the right amount of ice water. Since different flours have varying capacities for absorbing moisture it took experience to know by the "feel" of the pie dough when it was ready for rolling.

The filling was not as hard to make, from a technical point of view, but it took time and there were plenty of utensils to be used afterward. Now there is a new method of making pie with crumb crusts and uncooked fillings which is being hailed with delight.

THE ATTRACTION IS GONE

During the first three months of the present fiscal year about 6000 migrants, mostly returning Canadians, came to Canada from the United States. From Europe and the British Isles came 8000. The number was not a twentieth of that which formerly came across the Atlantic in the old days.

This falling off of migrants is largely due to the restrictive measures of recent governments. But even if there were no restrictions, there would be nothing like the former flow of settlers. Britishers and Europeans have virtually stopped migrating. Even if "prosperity" returns, the era of great migration seems to have gone.

There are several reasons why migrants no longer cross the Atlantic from the Old to the New World. One is that this continent is no longer a haven where life can be begun anew. In the heyday of immigration people came to this continent for two chief reasons. One was to dwell in freedom. The other was to obtain financial prosperity.

But these two things no longer attract. Can newcomers make money? Ask the natives. What about freedom? Well, strange stories have reached the other side. The European is no longer deluded by talk of "free America." He hears of repatriations here and there and of certain curious enactments against opinion. He learns that Canada is the only civilized country outside of Italy and Japan where it is illegal to belong to the Communist party.

This is not to argue that Canada should invite revolutionists here. But the implications of our laws are that if it is freedom of opinion that the settler desires, he is probably as well off in his own country.

Remembrance Day Services

Fourteen years ago on November the eleventh, in nineteen eighteen, at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of the year, the bugle rang out from close to the North Sea across Europe over the blood stained fields of Flanders, the Plains of Austria and the valleys of Italy, sounding the command to cease fire. After four long years the enemy was taking for peace. A peace that had cost the lives of millions of people and the expenditure of millions in money. This day we commemorate throughout the Empire as a day of thanksgiving, of honor and remembrance for the fallen and rejoicing that by their sacrifice we are permitted to enjoy the freedom, that is the right of every human being and which so far as our Empire is concerned is our most precious heritage.

Throughout Canada observance of Armistice Day is universal. In every City and Town, and in many of the smaller centres this day was devoted to the Remembrance Services. Lacombe was no exception, and the Day was fittingly celebrated here.

There was a memorial service in the Last We Forget Club Park at 11 o'clock, after which a special service was held in the Anglican Church. There was a large turnout to both services. On Sunday special memorial service was held in the United Church.

HOW TAXATION HAS INCREASED

Studies completed at the University of Toronto indicate that tax collections in this country are not being reduced in proportion to the reduction in the citizen's income. On the contrary, even in the present year, there has been an increase in the total volume of taxation. In 1928, of every dollar of income in Canada, the tax-gatherers, federal, provincial and municipal, collected no less than twelve and a half cents. The corresponding figure for last year was eighteen cents, or an increase in three years of 46 per cent. In 1928, burdensome debt charges, that is the aggregate of interest on non-supporting capital expenditures by federal, provincial and municipal authorities and railway deficits, were equal to 3 per cent. of the national income, and absorbed 24 per cent. of the proceeds of taxation. Last year they were equal to 1 1/2 per cent. of the national income, and absorbed more than 35 per cent. of taxation.

These figures emphasize the need of greater retrenchment in government of all kinds. It is clear that past ideas of expenditures must be drastically altered.

Owing to an unavoidable breakdown of the Linotype machine, The Western Globe is a day late.

Lest We Forget.

Fourteen years have come and gone since that momentous eleventh hour of the eleventh day, of the eleventh month of 1918, when the armistice which ended hostilities in the greatest war in the history of mankind became effective. Once again the people of Canada observe "Remembrance Day,"—a day on which they pay tribute to the memory of the thousands of their fellow citizens, men and women, who gave their lives in a cause which to them, and to us who survive, was a sacred, a noble cause, namely, a war to end war.

But as we look back over those fourteen years, and as we view the state of the world today, we are perplexed as we seek an answer to the question: Has war, after all, been ended? We are disturbed and suffer disquietude as we contemplate the present world situation. Were the sacrifices of 1914-1918 all in vain? Is something worse to follow?

The nations of the world have not learned, quite the reverse is true. Armaments are greater and more deadly today than they were in July, 1914. There have been numerous attempts to reduce armaments, but none to do away with them altogether, and the attempts at reduction have been feeble and for the most part ineffective.

Under the terms of the Peace Treaty Germany was disarmed, and her allies reduced to a position of impotence for the time being. But in dismantling Germany, the Allies tacitly agreed to bring about world disarmament. They have failed to do so, and now Germany is insisting on one of two things, either that the Allies proceed to disarm or that Germany be permitted to re-arm. The German demand is a reasonable one. The Allies cannot expect to hold a great, proud and powerful people in the position which the German people are forced to occupy at the present time.

What is to be the outcome? Will the Allies at last make a real, a determined, an honest attempt to disarm, that they will either have to agree to the re-arming of Germany, or that country will proceed to re-arm without their consent, and who will, or can, stop her?

But did the World War end war? As a matter of fact, it is not the war still in progress, but in another form which is bringing ruin upon all nations and imposing huge and incalculable losses and intense suffering upon millions of people? The weapons now employed are not bullets and bombs and bayonets, but extreme nationalist policies many kinds of restrictive trade measures, prohibitive tariffs, trade quotas, immigration quotas, with each nation striving to promote its own interests by working some harm to other nations. Where do we find two nations working in cordial co-operation to advance, not only their own welfare but the welfare of each other, and the world at large? Rather, are not the nations engaged in waging war upon each other actuated solely by the motive of the survival of the fittest?

Narrow nationalism kept alive, and in turn keeping alive, racial and religious suspicions, passions and hatreds, rules today, with every nation excusing its own selfishness, its own narrowness and bigotry, on the ground that other nations started it, are worse than they are, and that they are merely providing needed self-protection for themselves.

So we find Russia, while teaching its farmers and workers how to build and use tractors, at the same time instructing them in the mechanism and operation of tanks for use in war. We find democracy overthrown in Italy and a war-like dictatorship set up. Fearful, rules today, with every nation excusing its own selfishness, its own narrowness and bigotry, on the ground that other nations started it, are worse than they are, and that they are merely providing needed self-protection for themselves.

It is a disheartening picture, and no one nation seems to have the courage to face it, grapple with it, make a break in the vicious circle, and attempt to cut the cords which are throttling and strangling mankind. Instead, the old, threadbare excuse is given and acted upon,—the other fellow is doing it, it is to blame, and I must follow suit or be submerged.

If this attitude is maintained much longer complete world collapse is inevitable. Conditions existing as nothing as they are, in which anarchy thrives and grows apace. All the enemies of law and order, all the fanatics that put up and down theories of their own, are preying upon the public in all countries, promising to create utopias if the people will only arise en masse and destroy everything now existing which has been built up out of the labor, the experience, the sufferings of the generations of the past.

It is the whole system that is wrong, so these agitators declare, but nothing is quite so wrong as such statements. It is indeed the system that is wrong, although like all systems it must constantly change and improve in the ever-changing world to meet conditions as they, too, change. No, the fault lies in the hearts and minds of people themselves. They still maintain their old suspicions and dislikes of each other; they hate any race and language but their own; they scorn any religion but their own; each nation suffers either from fear or a superiority complex because one or the other is the predominant feeling of character of the individual men and women who make up the nation. It is the individual view which finds expression in public national policies.

Many of the politicians and statesmen of the world, the men chosen to direct national and international policies, realize the situation and left to themselves would be able to accomplish much to remedy it and remove the danger which is imminent, but their people will not support them; the masses would sweep them aside and put others in their place to continue to insist upon policies of extreme narrow nationalism. It is this attitude which is the cause of the world's ills, and their ultimate undoing which they will bring about, unthinkingly, heedlessly, and from purely selfish motives.

Travels In Screened Car

Missionary To China Armed Against Typhus-Bearing Insects

Bandits aren't the only dangers of China's conflict torn Honan Province. Rev. Victor Koon, Oklahoma City missionary, has taken back with him a specially built motorcar equipped for protection from insect hordes.

The half-ton chassis, with seats convertible into beds for Mr. and Mrs. Koon and their two eldest children and a cradle hung from the top for their year-old baby, is completely screened.

Typhus-bearing insects make sleeping in the native inn unsafe. Mr. Koon said.

All Her Children Were Troubled With Diarrhoea

Mr. J. J. Bickert, R.R. 1, Enderby, B.C., writes:—

"Last Summer all my children were troubled with diarrhoea, and were so bad I did not know what to do. A friend told me to give them Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I got a bottle, and after a couple of doses you should have seen the change. The children were soon well again, and I am very thankful to your wonderful remedy. I find it the only one that relieves so easily and quickly."

British Scientists Make Remarkable Discovery

Find Caterpillars Cause Of River Waters Turning Black

A remarkable discovery was made by British scientists in the Eden bridge and Oxford district of Kent and Surrey recently. Quite unaccountably, the waters in this area were rapidly being turned black, and it was alleged that pollution from sewage farms was the cause.

As a result, the department of botany of the British Museum was invited to probe the mystery. Samples of water were taken from the streams at various points and analyzed, when the sewage farms were exonerated, as the same ingredients were present both above and below the outfalls.

It was then noticed that paths and roads alongside the streams, and overhanging by oak trees, were thickly covered with a sooty material consisting of partially digested leaves which had been consumed by millions of caterpillars of the green oak moth.

By a very odd coincidence, this substance, washed down by natural drainage, had combined chemically with certain salts in the stream water, and the result was the manufacture of a natural ink.

This insect is quite capable of destroying an oak forest, but fortunately there is a natural check in the shape of a beardless fly known as the emps, or little hawk fly, which preys on the adult moths and is thus of immense value in saving thousands of pounds worth of native timber.—Tit-Bits.

Deafness May Be Inherited

Opinion Of J. W. Tinkle Of Ohio State University

Human beings inherit deafness according to John W. Tinkle, of the Department of Genetics at Ohio State University.

In comparison, the crossing of two white sweet peas which came from a common stock may produce a purple bloom because the purple trait was latent in both flowers, so normal parents may produce a deaf child if deafness is a trait characteristic of both families.

Tinkle drew his conclusions by taking 25 persons with an audiometer, tracing their family histories. These experiments showed deafness is a complete trait—a fact which was not certain before.

Tinkle thinks persons, in whom deafness is a hereditary trait, should not marry deaf persons. Moreover, it is dangerous for two deaf persons to marry for in the present state of knowledge they may not be able to ascertain whether their deafness is hereditary or not.

As a result of his study, Tinkle will receive the degree of doctor of philosophy from Ohio State University.

World's Grain Show

British Empire Farmers' Co-Operative To Show At Regina

The Empire Farmers' Co-Operative, Limited, will be represented both by exhibit space and by delegates to the world's grain exhibition and conference opening at Regina in July next year, according to a cablegram received at headquarters of the exhibition and conference.

The Right Hon. Lord Strathclyde, chairman, who with two of the directors will attend as delegates, expressed the opinion that an excellent opportunity is thus provided to meet, to confer with and to present the scope and advantages of the Empire Farmers' Co-Operative to farmers of all parts of the Empire. Exhibit space in the new grain show building has been booked for the organization.

This will be used for the presentation of exhibits of the various countries of interest to farmers and for convenient distribution of literature.

Technical Education

Explains Delay In Giving Effect To The Vocational Act

"Some delay has occurred in bringing the Vocational and Technical Education Act into effect by reason of the fact that the necessary regulations governing the act are still under consideration by the government," reads the communication explaining the status of this legislation from Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, tabled in the House of Commons. The letter was dated last March, and was in answer to protests from the Alberta School Trustees' Association against the delay in giving effect to this 1913 legislation.

Street Named After Canadian Captain

One Of Churchill's Thoroughfares Will Be Called Bernier

One of the streets of the new townsite to be opened at Churchill next spring has been named after a living Canadian, Captain J. E. Bernier of Lewis, Que. He is the only Canadian now alive to be given this recognition in the building of Canada's new northern port on Hudson Bay. All the other streets have been named after explorers and navigators of the north lands long since departed.

Cost Of Direct Relief

Per Capita Cost In Regina Is Given As $7.90

The per capita cost of direct relief in Regina during the period from May, 1931, to April, 1932, for food, clothing and shelter, was $7.90, according to information given recently by Hon. J. A. Merkle, Minister of Labor.

This figure which represent an expenditure of $420,566.53, does not include administration costs, drugs, medical attention or railway fares.

Worms, by the irritation that they cause in the stomach and intestines, are a source of much trouble, and that they should derive from food, and mal-nutrition is the result. Miller's Worms destroy worms and correct the morbid conditions in the stomach and bowels that are favorable to worms, so that the full nutrition of the child is assured and development in every way encouraged.

Fewer Lake Disasters

When Conditions Are Unfavorable Captains Do Not Venture Out

The last several seasons have been remarkably free from lake disasters. One reason is that aids to navigation such as range finders and wireless have been put into more general use. Another and a very important reason is that a new form of morale has been built up among steamer captains. The old school felt that a man was really not a sailor if he refused to take chances on the weather and many a skipper set forth deliberately on a foolhardy trip. Lately, discretion has ruled. Owners not only approve of their captains waiting for favorable weather but actually insist on it and few now venture out when conditions are unfavorable.

The Great Lakes sailor has a better chance for his life today than he ever had.

Longer Ships Predicted

A revolutionary change in the design of steamships, involving a five per cent. increase in length which would bring an increase in efficiency of almost 100 per cent., is near birth in the experiments of German scientists, according to Dr. Fritz Zwicky, physicist of the California Institute of Technology.

At 452 degrees below zero some of the metals, such as silver and copper, lose their resistance to electricity and become super-conductors.

New Signal System For Motor Traffic

Next Year's Cars In England Will Carry Mechanical Device

Motoring in England will enter a new era in 1933. All the new model cars of repute will be equipped with mechanical signaling devices. This means safer motoring, for the present system of hand signalling is admittedly a failure. The time is not far distant when motor traffic will be entirely controlled by mechanical signals similar to those in use on the railways.

The signals are in use on the new cars now in use at many road crossings. Protruding on either side of the windshield is a miniature standard with red, amber and green lights.

The lights are electrically controlled and are foot pedals. The driver switches the amber light apertures. This is the signal for the motorist behind to watch for the next signal. The red and green light cannot be worked until the amber has been shown.

The light code is the one in general use every country. If the driver is turning to the right he switches on the red light on the off side and a green light on the near side. This prevents anyone passing on the right, but indicates a clear passage on the left. For a left turn the signals are reversed. Red on both sides means no one can have any crossing, and road junction so equipped. Mechanical car signals will one day be compulsory.

The uniformity of system between the road and car signals should result in a marked decrease in accidents when the new devices make their appearance on the roads next year.

Lonely Outpost Has Most Modern Lifeboat

Best Equipment Obtainable Possessed By Barra On Scottish Coast

Lonely Barra, the southernmost outpost of the Outer Hebrides, and the newest lifeboat station in Scotland, is to be honored by the possession of one of the most powerful of Britain's latest lifeboats.

The inaugural ceremony took place at Cowra, where the Royal National Lifeboat Institution's building yards are situated. The boat will be formally presented to the institution by Sir Percy Mackinnon, chairman of Lloyd's.

The honored name of "Lloyd's" has been given to the boat to commemorate the fact that for over a century, and from its earliest days, Lloyd's has been one of the most generous supporters of Britain's lifeboats.

The new boat has a line-throwing gun and an electric searchlight. She is fitted throughout with electricity, and fitted with an oil-spray in the bows for spraying oil on the waves to smooth the water round the wreck. After the ceremony she will go to her station on Barra Island, and there is little doubt she will maintain the high traditions of the Scottish service.

Last year no fewer than 271 lives were saved, bringing the total for 1927 to 62,758, an average of 11 lives a week.

Life Is Dedicated To War Memorial

Book Of Remembrance To Be Illuminated By Montreal Man

A five-year task of illuminating the Book of Remembrance which will contain the names of the 68,000 Canadian men and women who died overseas from August 1914 until the disbandment of the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1922 is the life-work of William Purves, who exhibited a rough sample of the proposed Book in the McGill University Library here. The completed work will be placed in a specially-built vault in the Peace Memorial Tower in the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa.

"The work I am now engaged on is my life-work," said Mr. Purves when interviewed. "If I live the next five years to finish the job I shall feel that my life has not been spent in vain."

The Book of Remembrance containing 450 leaves of the finest calf-skin vellum will be bound in purple Morocco leather, mounted on solid gold and engraved with the Canadian Coat of Arms. The 68,000 names will be inscribed by hand on the parchment work of several men, but 15 pages will be fully illuminated by Mr. Purves.

He intends to tell pictorially, year by year, the story of the war; for instance, the story for 1914 will be the carrying of troops by the navy, for 1915, the pouring in of men from every province to aid their country, and so on. Mr. Purves also plans to work into his illuminated pages many authentic scenes showing the pleasures and pastimes of the men overseas.—Montreal Correspondent Canadian Press.

New Source Of Revenue

Enterprising saleswomen of London, England, combined pleasure with business this year by leading their cars with dresses and lingerie, which they sold to people in the rural districts during vacation trips. "I suppose, like many other husbands you can't say what your wife pays for her hats and dresses?"
"Oh, yes, I can—too much."

"But, darling, aside, have you ever stopped to figure out how much your wife's clothes cost you?"
"It isn't necessary. I simply add my income to what I owe."

Arctic Is Place For Rest

Food Plentiful Up There and Work Not Too Hard

For a real rest, go to the Arctic, according to members of the crew of the Hudson's Bay Company trading boat "Karise," which in striking contrast to the ill-fated "Baychimo," had a quiet, sedate trip to the furthest Arctic outpost.

The "Karise" returned to Vancouver after three months in the north.

"Depression hasn't hit the Arctic yet," said R. H. Bonycastle, western Arctic manager of the company, who was among the passengers. "Food is plentiful up there and work is not too hard."

British Museum Has Most Amazing Collection Of Old Newspapers Ever Assembled

Can you imagine coming downstairs one morning, getting your newspaper from the verandah and over your grape fruit reading as current news that for the first time in history a locomotive had run on rails drawing 38 coaches at the staggering speed of 12 miles per hour?

The British Museum has just opened a new branch for the storing of its collection of newspapers, the most amazing collection in the world. In this new building is housed a copy of every newspaper—British, Dominion and foreign—published since the year 1800.

The enormous output of literature of every kind has made this new building a necessity. The British Museum endeavours to obtain a copy of every book printed, from multiplication tables and bed-time stories to the he-man Epics of Ethel M. Dell and the novels of Ethel Glynn. There was no room for both books and newspapers so the latter have been given a new home.

The new building is located at Colindale, near Hendon, some 10 or 12 miles from the Museum itself. It is of concrete and steel with brick veneer and cost over $300,000. It already contains 275,000 bound volumes of newspapers weighing 20,000 tons. They occupy 14 miles of shelves. There is still room to absorb the world's output of newspapers for the next 50 years.

The reading room is 57 by 30 feet with sitting room and ample desk accommodation for 58 readers. The work of binding is done on the premises by the museum staff.

The building is open to the public. Application has first to be made and a ticket of admission obtained. Armed with this, anyone can walk in, fill up a form and in a remarkably short space of time any newspaper required is laid before him.

It is an indescribable experience to read as red-hot news what we all once had to learn laboriously as history. These papers go back to the Battle of Trafalgar and beyond; the escape of Napoleon from Elba, his defeat at Waterloo, the abolition of slavery throughout British and, later, American possessions; the deaths of George the Fourth, William of the same regal number, Victoria the Good and Edward VII; the crossing of the Atlantic by the first steamer, the inventions of a thousand and one miraculous things which are commonplace today; the institution of penny postage, Franklin's ill-starred expedition to the Arctic, the proclamation of a republic in Brazil, wars by the score.

From a historical viewpoint probably these newspapers have little value, history being a matter of perspective, but at least they do portray current thought at the time events which have since become history were actually taking place. What a tragedy they do not go back further still. Think of the thrill of reading, say, the news of the death of Cleopatra—"Queen of Egypt suicides. Famous beauty succumbs to asp bite"—would make telling headlines.

Then the lead, inconceivable in her grief at the death of Anthony, Cleopatra decided to end her life. Dismissing her servants and accompanied only by her favorite asp she retired to her couch. She was found later by a servant who gave the alarm. The court physician diagnosed the cause of death as snake-bite.

The paper's medical correspondent would then describe for the benefit of the uninformed, the precise effect of a bite in the bosom. Alas there is no such newspaper in existence. But the collection of newspapers which is gathered here must cause politicians a lot of uneasiness. They can always be confronted with what they said in a moment of exasperation or in the days before they turned their political coats inside-out. There is no point in the question as to what Gladstone said in '84. The answer is on file. Gladstone, being dead, can never claim to have been mis-reported.

Know What He Had

He had dined well, but unwisely. At last the time came for him to go home.

In the street he approached a policeman. "Officer," he said falteringly, "I'm looking for a parking place."

The policeman looked hard at him. "But you've no car," he said.

"Oh, yeh I have!" said the reveler. "It's in the parking-place I'm looking for."

Record Sugar Beet Crop

The largest crop on record, the yield of sugar beets grown this year in the province of Alberta, Canada, is estimated at nearly 180,000 tons from which about 30,000,000 pounds of sugar will be produced with several hundred tons of molasses.

The smallest fog particles have been measured at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was found that 25,000 of them could be placed on the head of a pin.

Prairie Wheat Crop

Bank Of Montreal Report Shows Yield At 415,000,000 Bushels

Taken as a whole, the principal crop of Canada have seldom attained such total volume as during the present season or been of a higher quality. Yields were generally satisfactory in each of the provinces, despite sectional reverses due to weather conditions or other causes. A preliminary estimate of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics placed the total yield of wheat in the prairie provinces at 446,000,000 bushels but from latest reports a total of around 415,000,000 bushels is now anticipated. Even so, the yield is well in excess of the ten-year average and the largest crop since 1928.

Last year's prairie crop was approximately 300,000,000 bushels. The wheat marketed to date has graded exceptionally high and tests indicate that the high protein content will be maintained. The western oat crop is estimated at 274,000,000 bushels against 183,700,000 bushels last year and the barley crop at 70,000,000 bushels as compared with 50,500,000 bushels.

May Investigate Coal Prices

Canadian Fuel Board Has Been Requested To Act

The Canadian fuel board has been requested by Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Mines, to enquire into and prepare a memorandum of the facts on coal prices in Canada. Official announcement to this effect was made by the minister.

Action is being taken on recent suggestions that coal prices were somewhat high. The question engaged the attention of the senate recently when Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen suggested the senate might undertake an inquiry into this matter.

In the senate, the question of coal prices arose when Hon. Cairine Wilson called attention to an article in a Toronto newspaper which had alleged the existence of a coal combine in British anthracite.

PRIEST RUNS A TOTE CLUB

A tote club organized by a Roman Catholic priest, Father Carless, of St. Ann's Church, in the heart of London's dockland, has a membership of 1,200, including 200 women. Father Carless considers betting a legitimate pastime, and as a clergyman he has no objection to his members betting horses and dogs, he wishes them to get as fair a chance as possible. The profits will be used to pay for the club first and later to improve their social life. Father Carless is shown at the Tote window paying out.

Severe Test For Firemen

Milan Brigade Called Out To Stop Flood Of Melted Glass

The ingenuity of the Milan Fire Brigade was put to a severe test when firemen were called out to stop a flood of molten glass. One of the sides of a huge furnace tank in a glass factory suddenly gave way and immediately the whole floor of the factory became flooded with liquid glass.

The workmen all managed to escape, but could not stop the flow from the tank, and the transparent lava spread to the doorway, into the street, and down stairs to the cellars of the factory.

The Fire Brigade sent for large supplies of ice, with which the firemen solidified the creeping margins of the glass. They then turned to the seething bulk itself, hosed it with feed water, and gradually made it all solid.

Next day, with the factory very much under glass, the second phase of the work was begun—the liberation with pick and hammer of the densely encased premises.

Workmen's jackets and other personal belongings were visible in the glass as if preserved in ice.

Edmonton, the capital of Alberta, is south of Edinburgh.

The city of Reno, Nev., lies 100 miles west of Los Angeles, Calif.

At Panama the sun rises in the Pacific and sets in the Atlantic.

Germany Buys Our Eggs

The largest market for Canadian eggs, states a report of the Department of Trade and Commerce, is in Germany where considerable quantities are shipped annually. A cargo of 50,000 pounds of eggs, the second largest shipment this season, has started the trade for the present season.

Export Lumber Trade Active

British Columbia Lumber Trade Has Been Notably Good This Year

The export trade of lumber from British Columbia, one of the richest areas in the world for high grade commercial lumber, has this year been notably good and the prospects for a continuation of active trade are decidedly encouraging. In the first eight months of 1935 shipments to the United States from British Columbia totalled 69,000,000 feet. By the end of the year, gauged by orders already in hand and others that appear to be immediately following, the 100,000,000 feet mark will be reached by the end of December. Meanwhile four members of the British Columbia Lumber Dealers' Association have gone to Britain to study at first hand the exact requirements of the British market.

As a result of trade agreements made at the Imperial Economic Conference held in Ottawa last summer new markets for Canadian lumber are opening in South Africa, Northern Rhodesia, Irish Free State and India. Due to the larger grain harvest in Western Canada this year, the demand from the Prairie Provinces for British Columbia lumber promises to be much greater in the next year than it has been in the past two or three years.

Largely Matter Of Chance

Judging Man's Character By Looks Not Always Safe

Physiologists disagree as to whether a man's character is indicated in his countenance. With some, the face is accepted as a letter of credit. With some, well you naturally think the Lord never placed it there except as a warning to others not to trust the bearer. And yet—and yet—we have been fooled so often by both that we incline to agree with the physiologists in disagreeing. There's a man with a fine, honest, open countenance. You take to him at once. Next thing you know he has sold you mining stocks that are N.G. Here's a man with a face you think repulsive. Instinctively you don't like him and won't trust him. Chance throws you together, you get acquainted and find him a pretty decent, intelligent, generous fellow. There's a man with a chin that betokens weakness and you find him married to a masculine woman whom he bosses. Here's a man who registers caution amounting to terror, you get acquainted and find him he is judging a baby show. These are, however, exceptions to the rule, that the first impression is right.

New Federal Appointment

William C. Clark Is Named Deputy Minister Of Finance

William Clifford Clark, director of commerce in commerce and administration, at Queen's University, has been appointed Deputy Minister of Finance. Official announcement by this effect was made by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett.

The new appointee succeeds J. C. Saunders, who died two-and-one-half years ago.

The official announcement by Premier Bennett says "Mr. Clark rendered very great service in connection with the Imperial Conference. He was held in high esteem by all those with whom he came in contact. The university has been good enough to grant him leave of absence so that we might immediately secure the benefit of his services in dealing with monetary problems, on which he is an admitted authority."

New Type Propeller

Invention Of Marine Engineer Works Like Tail Of Fish

A new type of flexible propeller, working on the same principle as a fish's tail, and calculated to double the speed of water craft, is undergoing tests at the hands of its inventor, Captain Ramsay Smith, a marine engineer.

The invention is designed to reproduce the powerful impulse created by the tail of a fish. Captain Smith is convinced that the principle of the ordinary marine screw is wrong, and that the future of speed depends on the development of the fish-tail propeller.

Patronize Your Newspaper

Merchants Who Solicit Business Through Press Get Results

It is significant that while commercial advertising has temporarily declined, the churches are recognizing the value of advertising, and possibly using just a little more newspaper space. And by doing so, they are showing their wisdom. Why should not every business advertiser? The press is one of the most powerful of all influences upon public opinion and the life of the nation. Without advertising, newspapers cannot exist, and the merchant who in this way solicits patronage is sure of results.

For Auction

Collection Of Arctic Timber-Wolf Skins Sold To Winnipeg

A collection of 282 arctic timber-wolves was sold by auction in Winnipeg recently, the outstanding feature of the Dominion Fur Auction Company's October sale of raw furs. The skins were the property of the Dominion Government and on each one of them a bounty of $20 had been paid to the trapper regardless of its size or quality. A substantial portion of the pelts had been taken from small pups and the average price realized was consequently lower than usual.

Prices ranged all the way from 25 cents for small damaged skins up to $20.50 for large sizes of good quality. The collection averaged $11.

A collection of late-caught beaver ranged between $11 and $17.50 and averaged $8.50 unchanged to five per cent. higher than the prices realized in August. Cross furs sold unchanged to five per cent. higher, realizing from $1.80 for badly rubbed skins up to forty dollars for good specimens.

The mink collection was very springy and prices realized were not representative. The range was 25 cents up to $5.00. Red foxes were in poor demand and mostly bought back. Muskrats were all bought back.

White foxes brought around $18 for ones and twos with average Mackenzie River and Chesterfield Inlet lots bringing from $10 to $17.50, unchanged from the August level.

Marten advanced 10 per cent., ranging up to $21.50 and averaging $10.50. Otter was in poor demand and sold unchanged, the range being from $2 to $16.

A collection of 2,500 weasel attracted fair demand, advancing about five per cent. Prices ranged from $10.25 to $21.50, unchanged from the August level.

Ordinary wolves declined about 10 per cent., ranging from $8.25 down to $2.75 and averaging $5.00.—Manitoba Free Press.

Making Air Travel Popular

Sweden's Aerotransport Company Find Ways To Stimulate Business

In spite of the depression there was an increase of about 50 per cent. in the number of passengers on Sweden's continental air lines during the first six months of this year according to a statement by Captain Florman, the head of the Swedish Aerotransport Company. About 75 per cent. of the passengers are business men who are attracted by the saving of time in transit and by the safety and regularity of the aerial traffic. The former time of transit between Malmö and Paris, eleven hours, was this year brought down to seven hours, and will next year be further reduced to about five hours. Thanks to the fact that luncheon will be served in the planes to eliminate the previous luncheon interval at Amsterdam. Other novel features are the facility for the passengers to send private radio messages while in the air and the introduction of the "night" planes with sleeping accommodation for the passengers.

As a further stimulus to the interest in using the air lines the Aerotransport Company has now reduced the fares of the Baltic Air Express to 25 per cent. of the Malmö-Paris stretch, so that the cost approximately corresponds to the second class railway fare.

British Columbia Appoints Representatives At Meeting Held In Victoria

A British Columbia agricultural advisory board was appointed at a meeting in Victoria, of Dominion, provincial and university agricultural officials, who were in conference to discuss matters pertaining to the co-ordination of farming activities throughout Canada. Ten members were selected.

The board will consist of three representatives of the government of British Columbia; three University of British Columbia representatives and four federal members. The latter have been selected and their names submitted to the minister of agriculture at Ottawa for approval.

Motor vehicle officials in Massachusetts are convinced that there are eight big points of difference between drivers who do not have accidents and those whose records are beset with mishaps.

They believe if all drivers could be made to realize that these eight accident factors are the primary ones, and that if they both knew what they were and how to avoid them, the traffic safety situation would be benefited enormously.

That is why they devote two months every year at the height of the travel season to the especially strict enforcement of these eight "thou shalt nots" with the idea of educating drivers as to their importance. The campaign is more, then, than a sporadic period of rigorous enforcement.

It might be interesting for the average motorist to sit down with a pencil before reading the list of mishap factors and see how many of the eight he can name and in what order he places them. They have not been selected by chance but on the basis of a thorough study of traffic mishaps over a long period of years. The list follows:

Driving too fast for conditions.

Passing another vehicle going in the same direction when the view ahead is obstructed.

Failure to keep to the right of the road.

Failure to slow down when approaching pedestrians.

Failure to observe the law regarding stopping for street cars taking on or discharging passengers.

Disregard of traffic control devices, signs, signals and stop lights.

Dangerous and improper parking, as on curves and corners.

The eight points might well be taken by any motorist anywhere as his guide to an accidentless driving experience. If he were to undertake the task of self-education, it is doubtful that he could find a better point of beginning than that of learning just what careless, heedless, or reckless manifestation in traffic is likely to get him into trouble.

He could make enormous headway in improving his safety were he to realize the full meaning of only the first factor; that of driving too fast for conditions. There never has been an accident tabulation or analysis which did not rank this as the most serious breach against the canons of safe operation. Even the most liberal-minded motor vehicle officials, those who have stood for the elimination of all maximum speed limit laws, enter no demurrer to this indictment of speed.

Therefore, if the car operator wants to be safe as far as the Massachusetts eight points are concerned, the first step is to decide to use his intelligence at all times in selecting his speed and to obey the law with respect to the other seven qualifications of a careful operator.

The Canning Season

Thrifty Housewife Will Store Away Fruits and Vegetables For Winter Use

A timely suggestion comes from the Dominion Fruit Branch at Ottawa in the form of a message which has a real appeal to housewives all over Canada, whether the farm home or in the city. We all know the difficult straits in which many of our fellow citizens find themselves as a result of conditions entirely beyond their control. With a wealth of fruits and vegetables available at lower prices than for many years, and with other necessary things such as sugar and containers equally available, there should be no need to elaborate about a ready response to the appeal "Just can a little more, if you can when you can."

Trade With France

Negotiations for a new trade treaty between Canada and France are expected to open shortly. Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state in the Dominion Government, returns from Geneva soon, where he was Canada's delegate to the League, and it is anticipated preliminary conversations will begin then. French authorities are understood to be favorable.

LIVE CATTLE FOR BRITAIN

In a statement to the British Parliament on the removal of restrictions on the importing of Canadian cattle, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, Under Secretary for the Dominions, intimated that the embargo which was lifted in 1922 and the burdensome restrictions which had been imposed since then, were required for the safeguarding of the health of British cattle. But the Montreal Gazette rightly remarks that this is incorrect. The suggestion of protecting British cattle against the danger of disease in Canadian cattle, maintained for many years, was nothing but a fine piece of camouflage. The health of Canadian cattle was well established. The charges against the health of Canadian cattle were never proven. The embargo and the restrictions were maintained really as a protection against the competition of our cattle in the British market.

The British Government was entirely free to adopt a policy of protecting British cattle, but Canada always protested against it being done under cover of an unwarranted and unfair reflection upon the health of Canadian cattle.

At the Ottawa conference the British delegates agreed to cancelling most of the restrictions on the entry of our cattle into Great Britain. They will enter on almost the same conditions as Irish cattle. They will be held for only one day, instead of three days, at the Canadian port of shipment, and they will not require daily inspection on shipboard by veterinary officer.

The restrictions are withdrawn by the British Government in the interest of closer trade relation between Britain and Canada, and in consideration of the relaxing of restrictions on the importing of British pedigree cattle into Canada. The prices for cattle on the British market are very low just now but free entry for our export cattle should be a valuable advantage in time, particularly if the exclusion of Canadian cattle from the United States market is to continue.

MR. JOHN SIFTON

Through the death of Mr. John W. Sifton, a distinguished family of journalists loses one of its most prominent members, the Winnipeg Free Press is deprived of an able executive and Canada suffers the loss of one of her outstanding public men.

The name of the Siftons and that of the Manitobas (now the Winnieps) are almost inseparable. The descendants of Sir Clifford Sifton have carried on the journalistic work he started with remarkable success until today they operate a chain of newspapers which exerts a powerful influence upon Western Canadian opinion. Your liver is a very small organ, but it is really the most important and delicate organ out of the body. If it is not working properly, it will cause you to feel tired, nervous, and generally unwell. You won't completely forget such a condition by taking pills, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or anything else, or anything. When they've moved your bowels they're through—and you need a liver stimulant.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will soon bring back the sunshine into your life. They're purely vegetable, safe, sure. Ask for them by name. Bottle 25c. 50c. at all drug stores.
